

Notre Internationale consults with privately held, government sector, and Fortune 500 corporations to advance understanding of the challenges associated with developing inclusive environments. We demonstrate our commitment to organizational talent development and management by helping leaders consider how self-awareness informs diversity, corporate culture and engagement, customer service, leadership development, and change management.

Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion

Our adaptive approach to DEI focuses on self-awareness, which enables corporate leadership to clearly navigate the changing organizational landscape. Notre consults with executive teams interested in developing self-awareness as a teachable skill within the corporate culture to transform the employee experience.

Emotional & Cultural Intelligence

Notre blends best practices in adult learning, incorporates models of behavioral change, curates cutting-edge research, and administers psychometrically sound assessments to deliver personally resonant material. This often results in lasting change through increased employee commitment and shared organizational values.

Leadership & Team Development

We combine leading industry tools with proprietary methodologies to help clients quickly recognize unhealthy habits that inhibit professional growth, team cohesion, and relationship management. Notre imparts awareness and provides clients with tools to increase personal insight, confidence, and deeper self-understanding.
